

1325 Woman and Peace

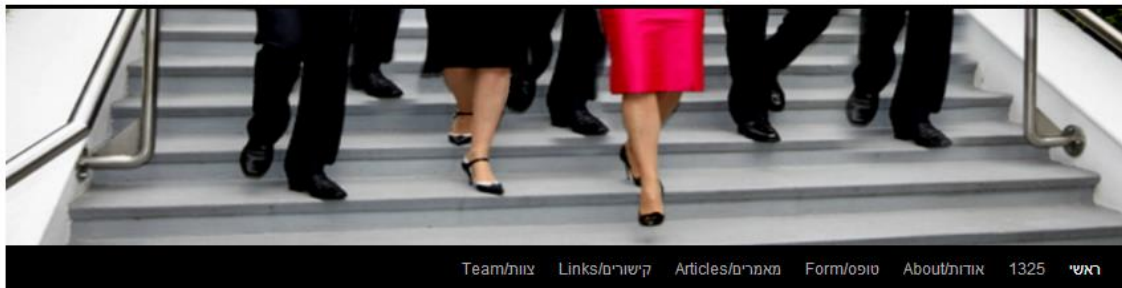

Project Summary: 1325 Woman and Peace

The project, 1325 Women and Peace, also known as 1325 Women Making Peace, and Women 4 Peace, is an ongoing online social enterprise, dedicated to inform on issues concerning women and peace. The project contains two online initiatives: a website and a facebook page, and one field meeting - a workshop on the creation of an online campaign for peace.

The Website

The mini-grant enabled the building of a website dedicated to the subject of 1325 Women and Peace. The site contains the UN Resolution 1325 in three languages: Hebrew, English and Arabic. It links to women and peace organizations around the world, and contains articles and photos of women who dedicate their time to bringing forth peace.

A Facebook Page

The website that was built is connected to a facebook page (<http://www.facebook.com/WomenIsrael>). The page has so far gathered 347 likes from people in Israel and around the world.

The facebook page is updated a couple of times each month, with current events concerning women around the world.

Some of the posts and pictures gathered great interest and were distributed around the world.

The site – <http://www.1325israel.wordpress.com> – and the facebook are the main sites dealing in 1325 in Israel today.

The Workshop

A workshop was held on 28/12/12 at John Brice College in Tel Aviv. Eighteen women: Jewish, Christian and Muslim women were attended.
